

The New PZU - More Than Insurance

PZU Group's Updated Strategy and Implementation Plan for 2017-2020

The New PZU - More Than Insurance (1/2)

Paweł Surówka
President of the PZU SA Management Board

The PZU Group is the largest financial group in Central and Eastern Europe. It has nearly 300 bn PLN of assets under management and it enjoys the trust of more than 22 million clients in five countries. Considering the magnitude of our operations and the rapid growth of the business environment driven by technology, the “New PZU” strategy defines the overall Group’s mission and forms the common denominator for both its current actions and its future initiatives.

The New PZU is much more than insurance. Our companies are active not only in life, non-life and health insurance but also in investment, pension, health care and banking products. Moreover, we deliver assistance services to retail clients and businesses through strategic partnerships. The magnitude and variety of our operations paint a broader picture of what PZU is. We are a powerful financial institution, but above all we are a group of service companies for which the operating foundation is the trust our clients place in us. By re-defining the PZU Group’s mission, we have drawn conclusions from our own experience on the one hand, while pointing to the direction in which the entire industry will move on the other hand.

We want to do something different from the classical client relation model that most insurers follow, in which the only contact clients have with their insurer (after buying a policy) is when a claim occurs. We want to do considerably more and effectively help clients solve their problems in many areas at every stage of their lives. PZU’s new approach to building client relations are at the heart of this change.

Our clients make many important decisions that greatly influence their future security, on top of their attempts to afford themselves, their loved ones, their firms and their employees insurance cover in their daily lives. The PZU Group wants to be part of all that – we want to help our clients make wise choices to protect their lives, health, assets, savings and finances. We want to give them tools to help them protect what is the most valuable to them. These types of decisions are not made overnight. This is a process spread over their entire lifetimes with every day bringing new questions to which the right answers must be found. We already know those answers.

In this spirit we have defined the PZU Group’s new mission: we help clients take care of their future. That is why we will be present today when they make decisions on how to tend to their health and financial security, and also at the time when the repercussions of these decisions will be felt. Our outlook is not for the next few months but for many years to come. For that and many other reasons, we organize medical checkups for children in school and we invest in educating people about health care. We also help organize care for older persons. We provide support for innovative techniques to detect tumors and we collaborate effectively with oncology centers.

The New PZU - More Than Insurance (2/2)

Defining PZU as a service company that helps clients take matters into their own hands, calls for considerable investment in the overall Group's growth. Our client relationships, and our knowledge of our clients, are becoming our main value, while our chief product is our acumen in addressing client needs to build a stable future. That is why we devote so much space in this strategy to initiatives that will enrich our client knowledge and assist us in reaching clients even more quickly. The major vector of change is to unite all the company's areas under a client focus so as to be able to address client needs comprehensively. We place special emphasis on analyzing the information we have – we want to understand and use it better. At the same time, to lend credibility to our profile as a company that anticipates the future, we are dedicating substantial attention to artificial intelligence and working on the largest client database in Poland, which the PZU Group has at its disposal. Gradually, we will move the company's operating model from that of an insurer (pricing and transferring risk) to the model of a service company specializing in harnessing data (risk management consulting and services) as well as caring for the future of clients, retail and business, alike.

We also want to alter the philosophy of how our sales networks operate. We will move from a „product-centric” model to an ecosystem in which our overriding objective will be to manage relations with clients by offering them our solutions in all the avenues that are accessible to them. Accurately anticipating the future, understanding client needs and building ever better methods of becoming part of their daily lives are the logical foundations supporting the key initiatives in PZU's new strategy. Among others, these initiatives include radically simplifying our product offering and preparing our sales network to offer all our products and services, investing in database integration to deliver a full picture of our clients, cross selling, offering a loyalty program and reducing the age of our client base. Tightening cooperation with the Alior and Pekao SA banks is also an important issue whereby we will be able to devise comprehensive financial solutions responding to the needs of retail clients and small and medium-sized companies.

Much will change in PZU under these initiatives. We will fully unleash the potential that is present in the structures of the market's largest player. We would like investors to value us for our discipline and how predictable we are in sharing our profits, and also for them to perceive the element of growth that flows from all the initiatives listed here.

Nevertheless, this strategy does have areas that will not undergo any modification while engaging in a thorough rejuvenation: technological, process-related and operational. Above all, the fact is that PZU will continue to be one of the most stable and profitable financial groups in the world. The values we will retain primarily involve stability: as defined by always keeping our Solvency II ratio above 200%; ROE specified as being above 22%; the promise of sharing the profits that are not needed to finance our rapid growth. Taken together, they form a guarantee that our advertising slogan remains current: not just with respect to our clients and business partners, but also our investors.

You can rely on us.
